A LETTER FROM OUR PRESIDENT

¶ WHEN IT COMES TO DECIDING WHERE TO PURSUE your college or seminary degree, you have many options. I'm grateful you are considering Bethlehem College & Seminary as one of them. We're not your typical institution of Christian higher learning. We believe that the Lord has called us to provide theological and Christian worldview education that reflects our unique heritage as a school born out of Bethlehem Baptist Church. It is here that we work to provide you with an "Education in Serious Joy." We want all of our students to attain the fulfillment of Paul's benediction in Romans 15:13: "May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope."

As you peruse this catalog, you'll find that we put a strong emphasis on the careful study of the Word of God, gaining an understanding of the world he has made, and growing in a deeper, more satisfying relationship with Jesus through it all. Bethlehem College & Seminary is for those students who desire to study the Bible in depth (in the original languages), who want to understand everything in the world from the perspective of Jesus Christ who created it all, and for those who desire to be equipped and motivated to serve the Lord wherever in the world he calls you.

We hope you will join us in this pursuit of knowing the Lord, his Word, and his world in such a way as to bring great joy to your soul, wisdom to your mind, and passion to your life and ministry.

May the Lord bless you,

TIM TOMLINSON, PRESIDENT

ABOUT BETHLEHEM COLLEGE & SEMINARY

OUR MISSION

¶ UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF GOD'S INERRANT WORD, Bethlehem College & Seminary exists to spread a passion for the supremacy of God in all things for the joy of all peoples through Jesus Christ by equipping men and women to treasure Christ above all things, to grow in wisdom and knowledge over a lifetime, and to glorify God in every sphere of life.

WHY BETHLEHEM COLLEGE & SEMINARY EXISTS

Our aim is to give students an intense immersion in a God-centered, Christ-exalting, Bible-saturated local church that combines rigorous study with church-based application, all to the end that they might joyfully magnify the infinite worth of Jesus Christ, and live for the praise of God's glory in affection, thought, word, and deed.

The ultimate goal of all that God does in history is to display his glory for the eternal enjoyment of his people. Both creation (Isaiah 43:7) and redemption (Ephesians 1:6, 12, 14) have this highest aim in view. Our enjoyment of him above all that he has made is essential to glorifying him for all that he is. Therefore, we are called to join God in gladly glorifying God in all we do (1 Corinthians 10:31). The glory of God shines most brightly in the glory of his Son, Jesus Christ. "The Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth" (John 1:14). Paul describes the heart of his message as "the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God"

(2 Corinthians 4:4). Therefore, our passion for the glory of God makes us a gospel-permeated and cross-centered ministry. When we speak of the glory or the supremacy of God, we mean the glory and the supremacy that are revealed supremely in Jesus Christ, shining most brightly through the gospel of his redeeming death and resurrection.

There are no bounds to this supremacy. Therefore, the centrality and supremacy of God in all things is the defining reality for us at Bethlehem and shapes the ethos of our life together. This vision of God, ministry, and life is rooted in Scripture, and the preservation of the vision depends on our allegiance to the Bible and its preeminence in all our thinking. Therefore, we believe that all theological and ministerial education should be radically God-centered, Christ-exalting, and Bible-saturated. It should be truth-driven rather than audience-driven. It should approach every intellectual and practical issue with the primary questions: What does this have to do with God? What does the Bible have to say about this? How can Christ be magnified in this? How does the gospel bear on this?

We have come to cherish the practical outworking of this God-centered approach to learning in the context of a community of believers. Our hearts' desire is to saturate emerging leaders—no matter their age, race, social standing, or educational background—into this thoughtful community of love and truth as the context for equipping them for whatever vocation God calls them to. Our aim is to give students an intense immersion in a God-centered, Christ-exalting, Bible-saturated local church that combines rigorous study with church-based application, all to the end that they might joyfully magnify the infinite worth of Jesus Christ and live for the praise of God's glory in affection, thought, word, and deed.

OUR INSTITUTIONAL GOALS

1. We aim to spread a passion for the supremacy of God in all things for the joy of all peoples through Jesus Christ.
2. We aim to build into our students the Biblical truths expressed in the Bethlehem College & Seminary Affirmation of Faith.
3. We aim to equip students to observe accurately, understand clearly, and evaluate fairly all that they study.
4. We seek to teach our students to read closely, understand accurately, and believe thoroughly the greatest book, God's inerrant word, the Bible.
5. We seek to equip and motivate our students to be lifelong learners.
6. We seek to provide our students an academically rigorous education where they are equipped to engage in charitable and thoughtful debate, and to evaluate all they learn under the authority of the Bible.

7. We desire to work in close harmony with the church in order to prepare students for effective service in the church and to love the body of Christ.
8. We seek to prepare students for effective, Christ-exalting ministry in the home, the church and the world.
9. We aim to inspire our students to have concern for the lost, the poor, and the oppressed, and to be committed to a global and multi-ethnic expansion of the kingdom that alleviates suffering-especially eternal suffering.
10. We aim to keep tuition low enough so students can graduate unencumbered by debt.
11. We aim to foster and equip our students to grow into godly maturity in thought, word, and deed.
12. We seek to build a strong financial foundation for Bethlehem College & Seminary that will allow us to continue to hire highly qualified faculty and staff and free us from the pressures associated with financial struggles.
13. We aim to build a faculty with strong academic credentials, a love for teaching, a passion for God's Word and His glory, and pastoral hearts.

OUR CORE VALUES

The great quest of Bethlehem College & Seminary is for minds and hearts that see and savor the glory of Christ in all things, and spread that experience to the world. Because of this, Bethlehem College & Seminary is committed to a God-centered vision of reality that is:

Grounded in the Local Church. As a church-based institution, all programs of Bethlehem College & Seminary are woven into the life and ministry of Bethlehem Baptist Church. From participation in corporate worship to active involvement in church small groups and ministries, our students will deepen and stretch their faith by treasuring Christ together with the congregation. In addition, our faculty members self-consciously bring the vision, values, and theology of Bethlehem Baptist Church to bear on all of our course readings, lectures, and discussions.

Rooted in Historic Christian Orthodoxy. Bethlehem College & Seminary is a confessional institution that embraces the doctrinal beliefs set forth in the Bethlehem College & Seminary Affirmation of Faith. We joyfully embrace the historic Christian teaching on the Trinity and the Incarnation of Jesus Christ, as set forth in the Nicene and Chalcedonian Creeds. We are reformed in our soteriology and charismatic in our affections. We hold all of our theological positions in submission to God's inerrant and infallible Word.

Sustained by God through Prayerful Dependence. God is glorified when those who serve and speak do so in the strength that he supplies. Therefore, in all of our teaching, preaching, and service, we make it our aim not to serve God, but to be served by him. He is the Giver; we are the receivers. And the fundamental activity of the soul that expresses this great reality is prayer. Therefore, we are intentional in building prayer into the visible life of our institution, from the classroom to meetings, and from chapel to mentorship. We desire to make it plain that all of our endeavors are done in reliance on God's power, trusting in his future grace to sustain us so that he receives the glory.

Expressed in Christian Hedonism. Essential to the foundation of Bethlehem College & Seminary is the truth that God is most glorified in us when we are most satisfied in him. God's self-exaltation and our everlasting joy are not at odds. They happen together. His worth is magnified when we treasure him above all things. Our joy in him reflects his glory.

Marked by Academic Rigor. If God has inspired a Book as the foundation of the Christian faith, there is a massive impulse unleashed in the world to teach people how to read. And if God ordained for some of that precious, God-breathed Book to be hard to understand, then God also unleashed an impulse to teach people how to think about what they read—how to read hard things and understand them, and how to use the mind in a rigorous way. Therefore, we endeavor in all of our intellectual inquiry to love God with our minds by thinking deeply and humbly about his word and his works.

Built on a Wartime Approach to Life, Education, and Ministry. As a nation during wartime focuses its collective resources on winning the war, so also we seek as individuals and an institution to focus our resources on the goal of achieving our shared mission. We believe that this involves pursuing strategic simplicity with regard to non-essentials in order that more resources may be channeled to the war effort. As an institution we will seek a wartime approach not only in the use of resources but also in pursuing strategies and processes that are effective in winning the war.

Shaped by Life-on-Life Ministry. A solid education should be more than intellectual development; it should be marked by spiritual growth and maturity. Intentional mentoring, discipleship, and ministry-involvement are hallmarks of Bethlehem College & Seminary's vision. Fall, every incoming student is paired with a mentor who seeks to provide encouragement, counsel, accountability, and practical help to the student throughout their time at Bethlehem.

Forged through Community and Experiential Learning. Students entering Bethlehem College & Seminary are placed in small cohorts. The small cohort size allows for productive class discussions as well as the opportunity to develop close, meaningful relationships with fellow students, faculty, and staff. We also believe that providing students with opportunities to see and experience God's world and to apply God's Word to it will, by God's grace, cause the truth and relevance of their education to leave a deeper impact on their lives. Thus, our programs contain a variety of experiential learning opportunities, including field trips, cross-cultural ministry, studying and serving abroad, as well as a multitude of ministry opportunities in and around Bethlehem Baptist Church.

Concerned for the Lost, the Poor, and the Oppressed. We live in a fallen world, under God’s curse and marred by human sin. This devastation extends to all areas of life: physical, emotional, relational, and spiritual. Therefore, we cannot pursue education insulated from the oppression, tribulations, and pain of the world. In order to bring the powerful love of God to bear on this broken world, we aim to send out students who will care for the least of these, look after the widow and the orphan, expose the unfruitful deeds of darkness, strengthen weak hands and feeble knees, and most importantly, proclaim Christ crucified for sinners to those who are in desperate need of his grace.

Characterized by Humble Authenticity and Courage. We seek to practice what we preach and teach. We desire our personal lives, educational philosophy, and organizational structure to give explicit evidence that we treasure Jesus Christ above all things. Therefore, we make it our aim to be loving, gracious, and honest in all of our communication. We also seek to serve others and consider them better than ourselves. When engaging with those who disagree, we seek to assume the best in them and represent them and their views accurately and fairly. When facing opposition and persecution, we seek to be bold as a lion, speaking the word of God with courage, even as we entrust ourselves to him who judges justly.

Devoted to the Priority of Worship. Education is not the ultimate goal of a college and seminary. Worship is. Education exists because worship doesn’t. Nothing makes God more supreme and more central than when people are utterly persuaded that nothing—not money or prestige or leisure or family or job or health or sports or toys or friends—is going to bring satisfaction to their aching hearts besides God. Therefore, worship is both the fuel and goal of all of our educational endeavors.

Committed to a Global and Multi-Ethnic Expansion of the Kingdom. A key part of our mission at Bethlehem College & Seminary is to spread a passion for the supremacy of God in all things for the joy of all peoples through Jesus Christ. This mission is rooted in the biblical vision of the people of God, ransomed by the blood of Christ from every tribe, tongue, people, and language. Therefore, we want to aim students like swift arrows into ministry and the marketplace for the joy of the lost. Though not all students will become missionaries or pastors, we want to equip passionate world-Christians who are cross-cultural ministers of the gospel in their daily interactions and who joyfully and sacrificially support the missionary efforts of their local churches.

OUR EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY

Socratic Methodology. It is our conviction that adults learn best through asking questions and solving problems. Thus, we seek to limit the amount of direct lectures in our programs and instead utilize Socratic discussions that will provoke deeper reflection on the course material. In addition, interactive discussions require students to develop key interpersonal and relational skills such as humility, tact, and patience.

God-Centered Faculty. Our full-time faculty is bound together under the Bethlehem College & Seminary Affirmation of Faith and share a common theological and educational vision. All faculty members are committed to instructing the minds, influencing the affections, and shaping the lives of the students under our care. In addition, Bethlehem's location in downtown Minneapolis enables us to take advantage of the area's richness in qualified, godly, and capable scholars. We are able to draw from local universities and seminaries, as well as numerous missions-sending organizations to bring experts from all fields to bear on our curriculum. Bethlehem's own extensive network of missionaries and Christian leaders puts our students in a unique position to learn from people serving in varied contexts throughout the world.

Cost Effective. We believe that one of the biggest obstacles facing college graduates is the amount of debt accumulated in gaining a quality education. We will not contribute much to the advancement of the Kingdom if we produce godly theologians, passionate missionaries, and faithful leaders who are saddled with so much debt that they cannot effectively pursue their ministry callings until they have paid off their loans. Therefore, we seek to provide the highest quality education at the most affordable price. To this end, we are working hard to find ways to fund our operations outside of student tuition. We are seeking generous partners who will help us to establish a healthy endowment so that we can launch students into fruitful, God-centered service without the shackles of college debt.

OUR CURRICULUM

Bethlehem College & Seminary is fundamentally committed to the coherence of all knowledge in Jesus Christ. Arising from this commitment is the belief that students learn best when they are guided by capable instructors through a systematic body of knowledge. Thus, we believe our students are best served by carefully structured programs comprised of courses which intentionally and logically build on one another rather than a haphazard conglomeration of general education courses which have little discernible connection to one another.

OUR HISTORY AND GOVERNANCE

For more than 140 years, Bethlehem Baptist Church has been committed to training and sending its people into the ministry of God's Word as pastors, missionaries, Christian workers and countless church, community and business leaders of all kinds. During the 1980s and 90s, the church expressed that commitment through developing a lay institute and training center, an apprenticeship program for ministerial candidates, and a nurture program for missionary candidates.

In 1998, these programs were upgraded into The Bethlehem Institute.

From 1998–2009. The Bethlehem Institute graduated ten classes from its seminary-level program. Many of those graduates are now serving as pastors, church planters, missionaries, college or seminary professors, and para-church workers on university campuses and in the inner city. Some have gone on to Ph.D.

programs at Cambridge, Durham, Oxford, St. Andrews, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Harvard, Boston University, University of Minnesota, London School of Theology, and Wheaton.

The Bethlehem Institute also graduated four classes of college freshman from the INSIGHT program.

From 2009–present. In 2009, The Bethlehem Institute became Bethlehem College & Seminary. In August of 2009, we matriculated our first cohort for the Master of Divinity program. In the fall of 2010, we began the Christian Worldview and the Biblical and Theological Studies programs, offering two-year and four-year undergraduate degrees. The Bethlehem College & Seminary Press was also launched in 2009, publishing God-Centered curricula for adults to facilitate substantial biblical and theological training in the local church.

IF ASKED TO DESCRIBE THE WORD “COMMUNITY,” most people would think of words like “neighborhood” or “friendship.” Some, perhaps, would consider the implications of the social values and responsibilities that come with living in context with others. Few, however, would use the word “self-denial.” While there certainly are many deep benefits to be gained from living in community, for Christians, these benefits spring from the ground of God-centered, joyful, self-denial. Sometimes this is a radical and painful self-denial for the sake of others (Acts 2:45). Oftentimes, it is a quiet yet nonetheless significant giving up of desires and preferences in order to best serve the interests of those with whom you live (1 Corinthians 8:13). Being part of any God-honoring community means considering others interests before your own—and being part of Bethlehem College & Seminary will be no exception.

COMMUNITY DECLARATION

We, the faculty, staff, and students of Bethlehem College & Seminary, exist to spread a passion for the supremacy of God in all things for the joy of all peoples through Jesus Christ. As those who, by grace, have come to embrace Jesus Christ as Lord, Savior and Supreme Treasure of our lives, we set forth this declaration as a testimony of our intention to live in Christian community. We declare our earnest desire to live under the authority of God’s inerrant Word and, as dependent creatures, we affirm our fundamental reliance on God’s grace to live out these commitments.

Therefore, as members of this community, we engage, by the aid of the Holy Spirit, to walk together in Christian love; to strive for the advancement of this institution in knowledge, holiness and peace; and to promote its spirituality and fruitfulness.

We engage to maintain family and personal devotions; to educate our children in the Christian faith; to seek the salvation of our kindred and acquaintances; to walk circumspectly in the world; to be just in our dealings, faithful in our engagements, and exemplary in our deportment; and to avoid all tattling, backbiting and excessive anger.

We further engage to watch over one another in brotherly love; to remember one another in prayer; to aid one another in sickness and distress; to cultivate Christian sympathy in feeling and courtesy in speech; to be slow to take offense, but always ready for reconciliation and mindful of the rules of our Savior to secure it without delay.

As members of Christ's body, we engage to discern and employ our gifts for the upbuilding of others and the glory of Christ; to faithfully attend and support the ministry of the local church; and to be wise in our stewardship of the financial resources that God provides, contributing cheerfully to the needs of the saints and the work of Gospel-ministry locally and globally, bearing particularly in mind the needs of the poor.

We will seek God's help in abstaining from all drugs, food, drink, and practices which bring unwarranted harm to the body or jeopardize our own or another's faith. While we affirm that God has given all things for our enjoyment, we recognize the necessity of wisdom in discerning what is useful in building up the body of Christ and glorifying God in all that we do. As such, we endeavor to faithfully live under the authority of biblical teaching, our conscience, and the laws of the state.

Moreover, we engage, by God's grace, to live with uprightness, thoughtfulness, respect, and purity in our relationships with members of the opposite sex; to avoid participation in any kind of immodest, prurient, or harmfully violent activity; and to seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit and the counsel of fellow believers when participating in all forms of entertainment.

As those particularly engaged in the life of the mind, we commit ourselves to the highest standards of integrity and honesty, wholeheartedly affirming the Lordship of Christ over all of life and thought.

Students

As students, we will welcome and test biblically all instruction by faculty, teachers, and staff, seeking to grow toward biblical unity in the truth.

Furthermore, we joyfully agree to be governed by the policies and procedures outlined in the college and seminary student handbooks.

Faculty

As faculty, we joyfully agree to abide in our instruction by the Bethlehem College & Seminary Affirmation of Faith, modeling by our lives what we believe and teach. We will take the lead in cultivating a learning environment marked by radical Christ-centeredness, academic rigor, personal holiness, and self-effacing humility.

Furthermore, we agree to be governed by the policies and procedures outlined in the Bethlehem College & Seminary Employee Handbook and the Bethlehem College & Seminary Faculty Handbook.

Staff

As staff members, by God's grace, we will model humble service and glad-hearted stewardship of our time and resources, seeking to glorify God in whatever our hands find to do.

Furthermore, we joyfully agree to be governed by the policies and procedures outlined in the Bethlehem College & Seminary Employee Handbook.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

¶ FROM THE EMERGENCE OF THE UNIVERSITY in the medieval era, the aim of education was not preparing someone for a particular job but preparing someone to be a certain kind of person. Skills are, of course, vital—but one look at contemporary corporate culture demonstrates the danger of brilliance without backbone. Any education that is worth its salt does more than just fill a person’s head with knowledge or equip them with skills to be a widget-maker, it prepares them to be clear thinkers who love truth, goodness, and beauty, and who can articulate these realities in speech and writing. But, even now, very few universities pursue those things with the foundation that was common to the earliest and best universities—that there is a ‘unity’ that holds together the ‘diversity’ in the university. That unity is the One through whom and by whom all things were created (Colossians 1:15–17) and the one for whom all of our educational pursuits exist.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM INFORMATION

Academic Policies

Auditing. Due to the sequential nature and cohort focus of our programs, we do not encourage auditing. Under certain circumstances, audits will be allowed on a case by case basis subject to approval and course and space availability. Students must fill out an audit form and receive approval from the course instructor, the academic dean, and the Bethlehem College & Seminary registrar. There is no additional charge for an audit for full-time students. Part-time Bethlehem College & Seminary students will be charged an audit fee. The deadline for applying for an audit is no later than 2 weeks after class has started.

Special Student Status.

College Courses: High school graduates who have not been admitted to a Bethlehem College & Seminary program and who are not degree-seeking students, may apply for special student status. Students who are accepted into the special student category will be allowed to enroll in courses (a maximum of 4 courses total) subject to approval of the instructor, academic dean, and registrar. Special students will be charged the full rate per credit hour and will earn academic credit (Policy Statement, Academic Catalog p. 33).

Seminary Courses: College graduates who have not been admitted to a Bethlehem College & Seminary program may apply for special student status to take a maximum of 4 elective courses, subject to approval of the instructor, academic dean, and registrar. Special student applications for traditional seminary courses are limited to staff members with Bethlehem Baptist church, Campus Outreach, appointed Bethlehem global partners, and TCT church planters or church planting residents. Special Students will be charged the full rate per credit hour and will earn academic credit. Alumni of Bethlehem seminary programs are eligible to enroll in elective M.Div. courses, subject to the approval of the instructor, academic dean, and registrar. Alumni do not need to complete a special student application and will be charged the full rate per credit hour and will earn academic credit.

Non-Traditional Courses: Non-traditional courses offered in conjunction with the Bethlehem Conference for Pastors + Church Leaders are open to any conference attendees. Undergraduate credit is available for high school graduates and graduate credit is available for college graduates at full tuition prices. All attendees are eligible to audit these courses for a reduced tuition charge. Credit students must complete the PasCon Visiting Student application.

Transfer Students. In general, Bethlehem College & Seminary will accept transfer credits earned at a state-recognized institution of higher learning. Students must have earned a 'C' average or above in the courses they wish to transfer. The applicability of such transfer credits will vary by program.

Because of the cohort-based, sequential nature of our undergraduate programs, transfer students will only be accepted under special circumstances. Transfer students must have earned a minimum of 64 transferable credits at a recognized institution of higher learning (40 of which must meet the state of Minnesota's general education requirements).

Bethlehem College & Seminary is certified by the US Department of Homeland Security (the Student and Exchange Visitor Program) to enroll nonimmigrant alien students.

If you have questions, please contact the registrar at registrar@bcsmn.edu.

Prerequisites for a Bethlehem College & Seminary Major.

Students who desire to earn a Bachelor's degree in Biblical and Theological Studies must complete the required courses from the Omnia program or 64 transferable credits distributed in the following categories:

Core Courses

Communication (5cr)

Humanities/Fine Arts (8cr)

Social Sciences (8cr)

Science and Mathematics (8cr)

Elective Courses

Elective (16cr)

*Language Courses

Elementary Greek (Koine) (8cr)

Dropping Courses. Bethlehem College & Seminary is a program-driven, not course-driven institution. For the sake of the integrity of our cohorts and in order to operate with a focused staff, students do not have unlimited options for taking courses during their academic career. Students must recognize, therefore, that enrollment in a program indicates an intention to take the requisite courses in the sequence they are offered. For this reason, students are highly discouraged from altering the program sequence through adding or dropping classes. Students who drop a requisite course within their program do so at their own risk; they may have to wait as long as an academic year before being able to re-enroll in the course or may have to drop into the next cohort in order to finish their program. This may have significant financial consequences for the student and potentially delay their graduation. Students, therefore, who intend to drop a course in their program must meet with their academic advisor for permission. The registrar and academic dean must grant final approval of the request.

Attendance

Individual instructors determine each class's attendance policy. Instructors will track attendance and administer consequences in accordance with their own policy.

Credit Transfer Policies

Acceptance of CLEP and AP Scores. Students enrolled in undergraduate programs at Bethlehem College & Seminary may submit testing results from qualified Advanced Placement (AP) and College Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams (provided by the College Board) for credit at Bethlehem College & Seminary under the following guidelines:

- Traditional undergraduate students enrolling in the Omnia program may transfer a total of 8 math and science credits. Students who are only seeking the Associate of Arts degree may also transfer an additional 8 elective credits in place of Greek.
- Transfer students enrolling in the Biblical and Theological Studies (BATS) or History of Ideas (HOI) must transfer up to 64 prerequisite credits. Only 30 credits can come from CLEP and AP.

- Undergraduate students enrolling in the Degree Completion Program must transfer a total of 56 semester credits (a minimum of 48 credits must be earned before a student can enroll in the program with a maximum of 36 credits coming from CLEP and AP).

A minimum score of 50 will be accepted for most CLEP examinations. Students must score a 3 or higher on AP exams. Credit hours will not be scaled to scores in either exam series. AP and CLEP exams vary in credit value. Credit is only awarded in those areas applicable to the undergraduate curriculum at Bethlehem College & Seminary. Please contact the registrar's office for more information on which exams will qualify for credit.

GRADUATE PROGRAM INFORMATION

» GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

Academic Policies

Withdrawal from Classes. If an apprentice desires to withdraw from a class, permission must be sought and received from the dean. Once approved, the dean and registrar must be informed within one week of being granted approval to withdraw.

Program Withdrawal. Apprentices who intend to resign from their program must:

- complete withdrawal form, available from the registrar
- turn in a one month written notice of resignation

- turn in building access card on their last day
- have an exit interview with their academic advisor and the academic dean before they leave.

Credit Transfer Policies

Seminary Credit Transfer Policy. Transfer credits are normally not applicable toward core requirements of the M.Div. or Th.M. programs. Qualifying transfer credits may be considered on a case-by-case basis toward M.Div. elective credits.

M.Div. Language Competency Policy. If a student enters Bethlehem Seminary having completed two or more semesters of biblical/classical Hebrew at the undergraduate or graduate level, he may take competency exams for Biblical Hebrew 1–2, prepared by one of the Bethlehem College & Seminary Hebrew faculty. Students who earn a minimum grade of 80% on these competency exams will fulfill the M.Div. program requirements for Biblical Hebrew 1–2 and will be awarded 4 credits per course.

M.A. Language Competency Policy. If a student enters the MA having completed two or more semesters of biblical Greek at the undergraduate or graduate level, he may take competency exams for Beginning Greek 1–2, prepared by a Bethlehem College & Seminary faculty member. Students who earn a minimum grade of 80% on these competency exams will fulfill the MA program requirements for Beginning Greek 1–2 and will be awarded 3 credits per course.

INSTITUTION-WIDE POLICIES

Add, Drop, and Withdrawal Policy

Add/Drop/Withdrawal Policy. Because of Bethlehem College & Seminary’s integrated, sequential courses, a student who withdraws or drops a course does so at his own risk. If a student desires to withdraw from either sequence after the 10 day period, a ‘withdraw’ will be noted on his transcript, depending on the student’s scores to that point. Students will receive the credit earned in any previously completed cohorts or modules, but will have to wait until the dropped course is next offered.

Probation, Suspension, and Dismissal Policies

Academic Standing. In order for students to remain in good standing, a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 (2.5 for seminary students) or above must be maintained. Cumulative GPA is calculated on the basis only of credits attempted at Bethlehem College & Seminary.

Academic Warning. A student whose semester grade point average is less than 2.0 (2.5 for seminary students) shall be placed on academic warning beginning with the following semester. A student who is placed on academic warning must ensure that his cumulative GPA is in good academic standing in order to prevent being placed on academic probation.

Academic Probation. A student whose cumulative GPA is less than 2.0 (2.5 for seminary students) after two consecutive semesters will be placed on academic probation for the following semester. An ad hoc committee has the right to limit the number of credits in which a student on academic probation may enroll.

Suspension. A student who fails to raise his cumulative GPA above a 2.0 (2.5 for seminary students) after one semester of academic probation will be placed on academic suspension. Academic suspension will prohibit a student from enrolling in additional courses at Bethlehem College & Seminary for a minimum of one semester. If a student wishes to re-enroll after an academic suspension, he may complete a re-enrollment form (available from the registrar) no later than four weeks before the start of the semester. The registrar and academic dean will review the application and return a decision within two weeks.

Academic Appeals. Appeals (regarding probation, suspension, requirements, etc.) should be made in writing within three weeks of the decision in question and addressed to the academic dean. The dean will convene the ad hoc appeals committee, which includes the dean, registrar, and president. It may also include other Bethlehem College & Seminary staff or faculty when appropriate.

The academic dean can be reached by writing to 720 13th Ave. S., Minneapolis, MN 55415 or by telephone at 612-455-3420 ext.1104.

Dismissal. In addition to academic suspensions, students may also be suspended and/or dismissed outright from Bethlehem College & Seminary for egregious, repeated, or unrepentant violations of the Bethlehem College & Seminary Community Declaration. If such behavior occurs, an ad hoc committee consisting of faculty, staff members and convened by the academic dean will determine if the student(s) in question will be suspended or dismissed.

Cheating. Students cheating in course work or examinations are subject to discipline. Cheating includes copying another student's work and presenting it as one's own (or allowing another person to copy one's own work) and using dishonest or prohibited methods to complete a test (or helping another person to cheat). Students who cheat will be subject to significant academic consequences including an immediate failing grade for the course. An offending student may also be put on disciplinary probation. The disciplinary action may be decreased or increased for reasons such as the following:

Possibly decreased to an F on the assignment:

- » if work is a minor part of the total grade (less than 5%)
- » if judged not to be premeditated

Possibly increased to academic suspension and/or non-participation in Commencement:

- » if a repeated case of cheating during module
- » if a flagrant action of cheating (or helping others to cheat)
- » if the student is proved to have been dishonest or uncooperative at any time during the investigation.

Appeals for cause on academic cheating or plagiarism will be directed to the academic dean and the ad hoc appeals committee.

Plagiarism. Students found plagiarizing are subject to discipline. The most common examples include failure to use quotations marks when quoting, failure to make a thorough paraphrase when attempting to put someone else's idea into one's own words, and failure to give credit to the source of the information.

The standard disciplinary response to substantial plagiarism is an immediate "F" for the course and the student placed on probation. This action may be either decreased or increased for reasons such as the following:

Possibly decreased to an F on the assignment:

- » if work is a minor part of the total grade (less than 5%)
- » if judged not to be premeditated

Possibly increased to academic suspension and/or non-participation in Commencement:

- » if a repeated case of plagiarism during module
- » if a flagrant action of plagiarism
- » if the student is proved to have been dishonest or uncooperative at any time during the investigation.

Appeals for any such actions can be made to the academic dean and the ad hoc appeals committee.

Appeal of Dismissal (Non-Academic). Disciplinary action taken by the committee may be appealed. Any such appeal must be made in writing to the committee through the academic dean. Such an appeal must be received within seven calendar days of the date upon which the student is provided written notice of the disciplinary decision. The committee has 14 days to respond.

All pending probation, suspension, or dismissal actions will be communicated to the student(s) at least 14 days prior to the action taking effect. The academic dean is responsible for this communication in cooperation with the registrar.

Appeal of Grade. A student may appeal a grade within 45 days of the end of the academic semester. The initial appeal must be made to the faculty member for the course. If the issue cannot be resolved at that level, then an appeal may be made to the dean's office. If the grade error is clerical, the appeal can be made at any time before graduating.

For the Memphis Extension, any person claiming damage or loss as a result of any act or practice by this institution that may be a violation of the Title 49, Chapter 7, Part 20 or Rule Chapter 1540-01-02 may file a complaint with the Tennessee Higher Education Commission, Division of Postsecondary State Authorization.

Graduation Policies and Requirements

Students must meet the graduation requirements of the Catalog under which they first enroll.

Application for Graduation/Graduation Fee. A Graduation Application form must be completed and submitted to the registrar, along with a $50.00 ($75.00 for Th.M.) graduation fee no later than February 1 for spring graduation. Failure to submit the completed form by the deadline may result in delaying of graduation.

Satisfaction of Financial Obligations. All financial obligations to Bethlehem College & Seminary must be fulfilled prior to graduation, so that all accounts are clear of debt, including the graduation fee. All tuition and fees must be paid by the Wednesday prior to commencement in order to participate in commencement ceremonies.

Minimum Credit Requirements. Academic programs must meet the following minimum credit requirements: bachelor of theology, 120 credits; bachelor of arts degrees, 126 credits; associate degrees, 64 credits; master of divinity, 100 credits; master of theology, 120 credits; certificate of theological studies, 32 credits. Grade Policies

Bethlehem College & Seminary Grading System. A four-point grading scale is used, which includes plus and minus designations:

GRADE		GRADE POINTS
A	Excellent	4.00
A-		3.70
B+		3.30
B	Good	3.00
B-		2.70
C+		2.30
C	Satisfactory	2.00
C-		1.70
D+		1.30
D	Poor	1.00
D-		0.70
F	Fail	0.00

P	Pass (equivalent to "C" or higher)
W*	Withdraw
WP	Withdraw Passing
WF	Withdraw Failing
I	Incomplete
IP	In-Progress
R	Course Repeat
X	Professor has not yet submitted grade

*The last day to drop classes with a grade of W is the end of the seventh week of the semester or the halfway point of the summer session.

The highest grade earned for the course will be used in calculating the cumulative GPA. While all previously earned grades remain on the academic record, they are not counted in GPA calculations.

Grade Point Average (GPA). The grade point average is determined by dividing total grade points by the total number of credits attempted in which grades of A through F were earned. Courses with grades of P, W, WP, WF, I, IP, X are not used in computing the GPA.

Grades and other progress reports are communicated to the student via the online platform, Populi at bcs.populiweb.com.

Grievance Policy

The student complaint policy aims to resolve disputes/concerns that involve a person(s) or process of the Bethlehem College & Seminary community not already addressed by existing policy (i.e., academic or course related appeals, appeal of disciplinary decision, etc.).

When a dispute/concern arises, a student should always try to work out the problem by first discussing it with those closest to the issue. Insofar as is possible, students should seek to apply Jesus's teaching on conflict resolution in Matthew 18:15-17 (see section on conflict resolution).

If the problem is unable to be resolved at the interpersonal level, a student may file a complaint with the dean's office. A complaint is defined as a fact-based plea for the review of a process and/or an interpersonal interaction alleged to be improper. A complaint form is available from the registrar's office and must be submitted to the dean's office within 30 days of the occurrence.

Upon receipt of the complaint, the student will be contacted by appropriate faculty or staff within 72 hours. At the discretion of the dean, a committee may be formed in order to address the complaint.

Non-Passing Grade Policies

Incomplete Grades. An incomplete grade is given only if the instructor is satisfied that there is a valid reason for assigning such a grade (such as a prolonged illness or death in the family). A request for an incomplete grade form must be completed with instructor approval and submitted no later than the last day of class for that semester. All outstanding incomplete grades must be removed by the end of the following semester. Instructors are not required to grant a full semester for the grade completion.

Repeating a Course. Because of a sequential, cohort design of degree programs at Bethlehem College & Seminary, failing a course will have significant impact on a student's academic scheduling. All courses in Bethlehem College & Seminary's degree programs are required for graduation. Therefore, should a student earn a failing grade in a course, the student will be required to retake the course the next time it is offered. A student who fails a requisite course does so at his own risk and may have to drop into the next cohort in order to finish the program. When a student fails a course that is a prerequisite for other courses (e.g. language courses), the student may not continue on to the more advanced courses without first passing the prerequisite course. This may have significant consequences for the student and potentially delay his graduation. Students will be charged the full rate for courses retaken or substituted due to a failing grade. A course may only be repeated one time. Repeating a course would be necessitated by a failing grade. Permission to repeat a course with a non-failing grade must be approved by the dean and registrar.

When a student fails a course, his GPA is adversely affected, as zero points are awarded for that course for the semester. When a student retakes the course, the grade earned counts toward the student's GPA and replaces the previous grade in the student's GPA. Previous course attempts will be listed on the student's transcripts, but will not count toward a student's cumulative GPA.

Other Policies

Advising. Students will be assigned academic advisors in their first semester. For more information, contact the registrar or the academic dean.

Alternative Testing. Any student who may require an accommodation under the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act should contact the course instructor with this matter as soon as possible and no later than the end of the first week of classes. Special needs must be documented with the registrar.

Conferring a Second Bachelor's Degree. Applicants who have an earned Bachelor's degree from another institution of higher learning may be granted a Bachelor's degree at Bethlehem College & Seminary, provided they fulfill the degree requirements of the Bethlehem College & Seminary degree program and if, in the judgement of the registrar/Academic Committee, the student has successfully completed the necessary general education requirements.

Credit for Prior Learning. Bethlehem College & Seminary does not offer credit for prior learning.

Curriculum Changes. Bethlehem College & Seminary reserves the right to change the curriculum as needed.

Make-up Exams. Students who miss a scheduled examination may, at the faculty member's discretion, make up the exam in arrangement with the registrar. The faculty member should discuss the arrangement with the registrar in advance and then send the exam to the registrar along with any special instructions for its administration.

Transcripts. College transcripts are available upon written request through the student portal (Populi) to the Bethlehem College & Seminary registrar. A student must be current with their Bethlehem College & Seminary payments or have a zero balance in order to request official transcripts. Typical turnaround for transcript requests is one week.

Writing Standards

Bethlehem College & Seminary expects all student to produce quality written work in English. For all academic writing in biblical and theological studies, college and seminary students will conform to the Society of Biblical Liturature's Handbook of Style and Student Supplement documents, both of which are available from the faculty and the library. Writing submitted for college courses in the humanities should conform to The Chicago Manual of Style.

Statement on Academic Rigor and Excellence

Bethlehem College & Seminary faculty at all levels are personally committed to the institution's doctrinal commitments and vision and will model and seek to instill in students a robust commitment to academic rigor and excellence, characterized by loving God with one's mind, observing accurately, understanding clearly, evaluating fairly, and engaging charitably and thoughtfully with all that they study under the authority of God's Word. At all program levels, Bethlehem College & Seminary classroom instruction prioritizes interactive discussions that foster critical thinking and deep reflection on the course material, while cultivating key interpersonal and relational skills such as humility, tact, and patience. Faculty classroom lectures are also an important means of introducing and systematically explaining course material, while modeling for students careful, passionate academic excellence and promoting critical listening skills.

Bethlehem College & Seminary aims to equip and motivate all students regardless of degree program to be lifelong learners, cultivating foundational habits of mind and heart applicable to every sphere of life. These habits include observing accurately and thoroughly, understanding clearly what is observed, evaluating fairly what is understood by deciding what is true and valuable, feeling intensely and appropriately, applying wisely and helpfully, and expressing in speech and writing and deeds what one has seen, understood, felt and applied in such a way that its accuracy, clarity, truth, value, and helpfulness can be known and enjoyed by others.

Traditional Undergraduate

Undergraduate programs are comprised of sequences of courses which logically build upon one another. Courses in the A.A. program (which form the core curricula for B.A. degrees) equip students with a broad knowledge of the Scriptures, history, philosophy, literature, theology, and the natural sciences. Students enrolled in the B.A. programs also are equipped with the basics of biblical Greek during their second year. All courses aim to introduce students to critical skills in logic, rhetoric, the analysis of texts, composition, and oral communication. Reading assignments in the first two years of the undergraduate curriculum introduce students to fundamental concepts in each discipline, establish categories for thought, and develop foundational competencies in core areas of knowledge.

Written assignments challenge students to restate an author's thesis and argumentation, identify relevant assumptions and their significance, and convey their findings in a coherent and compelling argument. All courses build the basic foundation of a biblical worldview. Courses in the final two years of the undergraduate programs reinforce and build upon the knowledge and skills developed in the core curricula. Courses in the Biblical and Theological Studies program build on the grammatical and syntactical foundation of original language study in year two and equip students with critical skills in original language exegesis. Exegetical studies in both the Old and the New Testament also build upon the biblical framework established in the core curricula. Additional courses in theology, discipleship, ethics, crosscultural ministry, and communications aim to develop an increasingly mature Christian worldview. Courses in the History of Ideas program reinforce the necessity of understanding an author's original meaning in its context and then faithfully evaluating this meaning in light of the Scriptures and the Christian faith. Attentive reading and guided discussion of classic works in literature and philosophy produce a deeper understanding of the great ideas of Western thought. Written and reading assignments in the final two years challenge undergraduate students to winsomely engage alternate viewpoints, identify unspoken assumptions and their significance, confidently articulate their own perspective, and creatively contribute to academic discussions. Assignments aim to cultivate comprehension as well as the ability to carefully and wisely evaluate, synthesize, and apply course material with a view toward Christian leadership in the home, church, and world. The discipleship and instruction of students by Bethlehem College & Seminary faculty will nurture in students a deep Christian worldview, characterized by love for the triune God, his Word, and his church, a commitment to personal holiness, and prepare students for thoughtful, mature leadership in virtually any career.

Traditional Graduate

Graduate programs are comprised of courses that intentionally and logically build on one another. Courses in the first two years of the M.Div. program emphasize mastery of foundational content in Hebrew and Greek language, hermeneutics, Old and New Testament survey, missiology, and practical theology, while introducing and reinforcing crucial skills in discourse and syntactical analysis. Reading assignments at the beginning of the M.Div. program aim to introduce students to foundational information, theories, and concepts at the graduate level. Written assignments in years 1 and 2 promote comprehension and mastery of course material, critical thinking, and growing competence and skill in original language exegesis. Courses in the final two years of the M.Div. program build on earlier foundational courses. These upper-level courses, including church history, preaching, biblical theology, and systematic theology, aim to foster a mature biblical worldview and independent synthesis of biblical, historical, and theological material, while developing and reinforcing attitudes and skills important for vocational ministry. Thus, reading and writing assignments in upper-level courses aim to cultivate thoughtful, winsome engagement with alternate viewpoints; humble confidence in articulating a student's own mature theological perspective; and the ability not only to comprehend but carefully and wisely evaluate, synthesize, and apply course material with a view toward vocational Christian leadership. Faculty seek to instill in students through personal modeling and course assignments a deep Christian formation, characterized by love for the triune God, his Word, his church, and his world; a commitment to personal holiness; and seasoned interpersonal skills which characterize elder-qualified ministers of the gospel.

Th.M. students should demonstrate the aforementioned qualities expected of advanced M.Div. students and graduates, as well as significant competency for academic research and writing. Th.M. students are expected to apply foundational theory and skills learned in the M.Div. program to mature, independent research culminating in the completion of a masters thesis under the direction of a qualified supervisor.

Non-Traditional Programs

Bethlehem's evening degree programs, the B.Th. and M.A. in Exegesis and Theology, reflect the same commitment to academic rigor and excellence found in the traditional programs.

These non-traditional programs are comprised of an intentional sequence of courses that logically build on one another. The B.Th. curriculum provides students with foundational content in Bible and Theology and equips them to faithfully study, interpret, synthesize, and apply biblical truths. Students acquire collegiate-level writing skills in inquiry, interpretation, and argumentation in written and oral communication to more effectively articulate the message of the biblical text.

Master of Arts

The M.A. in Exegesis and Theology curriculum emphasizes graduate-level original language exegesis and God-centered, whole-Bible theology. Students learn beginning and intermediate Greek grammar and acquire exegetical skills in discourse and syntactical analysis in order to carefully interpret the New Testament in Greek. Courses in Old and New Testament theology and biblical theology introduce students to the overarching story-line and message of the Bible. Courses in systematic theology, world religions and worldview, and biblical ethics seek to foster a mature biblical worldview and independent synthesis of biblical and theological material. Reading and writing assignments aim to cultivate thoughtful, winsome engagement with alternate viewpoints; humble confidence in articulating a student's own mature theological perspective; and the ability not only to comprehend but carefully and wisely evaluate, synthesize, and apply course material as Christian leaders who humbly obey God's Word.

BETHLEHEM ADMISSIONS OVERVIEW

¶ While the admissions process at Bethlehem College & Seminary is rigorous and deliberate, we see it most fundamentally as subject to the wise and sovereign hand of God. As such, your application should begin where our deliberations must: in earnest and dependent prayer for God's will to be done in our lives. Our aim is to see Christ exalted in your life, whether you come to Bethlehem College & Seminary or go somewhere else. Pray with us that this process would be a means to that glorious end.

We consider a combination of factors in our admissions process specific to each of our programs. But for all our programs we look not only for excellent students but for men and women who long to magnify with their lives the supremacy of Christ in the church, workplace, and world.

Vision

A key part of our mission at Bethlehem College & Seminary is to spread a passion for the supremacy of God in all things for the joy of all peoples through Jesus Christ. This mission is rooted in the biblical vision of the people of God, ransomed by the blood of Christ from every tribe, tongue, people, and language. Therefore, we aim to admit international students from among those peoples in order to train and equip them to return and spread this passion among all the nations.

» UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE

Bethlehem College & Seminary accepts applications from international students to both our undergraduate and graduate level programs. Many of the requirements for international students are the same for both programs, but there are some differences. Unless otherwise stated, applicants should assume that all of the policies listed below apply to either program.

Timeline

Undergraduate: Admissions into the undergraduate program are made on a rolling basis by the Bethlehem College Admissions Committee. The Application deadline for international applicants is January 10 for freshmen.

Undergraduate–Transfer: Junior transfer applicants who have not fulfilled the prerequisite of two semesters of Greek should plan to apply 12-18 months before they plan to enroll so as to complete Greek as well as the Old Testament and New Testament Survey exams. The deadline for application is July 15th, 13 months before desired matriculation. Interviews will then be conducted, and an admissions decision will be given August 15. Students who are approved will then begin Bethlehem’s Accelerated Greek course in the Fall and complete it in early Spring. After this Greek prerequisite has been successfully completed, applicants qualify for full acceptance, and may proceed with the F-1 Visa application process. Students enrolling in Accelerated Greek are required to pay the tuition costs for this course.

Graduate: International applications for applicants who have already completed two semesters of college-level Greek are due December 1. Applicants who have not fulfilled the prerequisite of two semesters of Greek should plan to apply 12-18 months before they plan to enroll. The deadline for applications is July 15th, 13 months before desired matriculation. Interviews will then be conducted, and an admissions decision will be given August 15th. Students who are approved will then begin Bethlehem’s Accelerated Greek course in the Fall, and complete it in early Spring. After this Greek prerequisite has been successfully completed, applicants qualify for full acceptance and may proceed with the F-1 Visa application process. Students enrolling in Accelerated Greek are required to pay the tuition costs for this course.

Admissions Requirements

In addition to the requirements listed above (see “Undergraduate—Admissions Requirements”; “Graduate—Admissions Requirements), there are additional requirements for international students:

- 1. Statement of Understanding: International applicants are required to read and sign the “Statement of Understanding.”
- 2. Transcript Evaluation: Official transcripts are required from all post-secondary level schools attended from which academic credit was received. Transcripts from schools attended outside the U.S. must be translated into English and professionally evaluated. Bethlehem accepts evaluations from the following organizations: World Education Services (www.wes.org);

AACRAO International Educational Services (<http://ies.aacrao.org>); Educational Credential Evaluators (<https://www.ece.org>). The report must include general equivalency, course by course evaluation, and grade point average (GPA). The applicant is responsible for any evaluation fees.

Undergraduate: applicants must have their high school transcripts translated and evaluated in the same way.

TOEFL: All students for whom English is not their first language are also required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Bethlehem requires that students take the internet based test (TOEFL iBT®) and earn a minimum score of 90. Because the test is normally administered four times a year, the candidate is advised to make inquiry well in advance of the date of anticipated study in the United States. We must receive official score reports directly from the testing service. Bethlehem's TOEFL code is: B646. Scores must be no more than three years old. Students who do not meet the minimum English proficiency requirements will not be admitted. To register for the TOEFL/TWE test, applicants may contact: <https://www.ets.org/toefl>

An applicant who is a native speaker of English and is a citizen of the United Kingdom, the Republic of Ireland, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, or the British West Indies is not required to take the TOEFL exam. Applicants from all other countries are required to submit a TOEFL score.

Undergraduate applicants from these English speaking countries are not required to take the TOEFL, but are required to submit SAT or ACT scores instead.

No admissions decision will be made until all required forms and documents are received, at which point the admissions file will be reviewed by the committee.

Undergraduate Transfers

Transferring F-1 students already living in the U.S. should phone the registrar (612-455-3420 extension 402) to discuss the process of SEVIS F-1 Transfer. Bethlehem can issue a new I-20 only after the previous school has “transferred out” the SEVIS record to us. If the previous school requires an F-1 transfer form, our registrar can send it via email. Transfer students will be required to show evidence of acceptance to Bethlehem College & Seminary to their previous school. All F-1 transfer students are required to demonstrate sufficient annual support as per the Financial Affidavit (below).

Deposit

Once the applicant has been approved, a deposit of $2,000USD is required. This amount is fully refundable in the event that the Visa application is denied. Payment may be made by credit card, wire transfer or other forms of certified payment. This deposit will be applied to the student's tuition once they arrive at Bethlehem.

Financial Affidavit

Along with the deposit, international applicants are required to submit a financial affidavit. To apply for an F-1 student visa, students must be able to demonstrate sufficient financial support to cover expenses while attending Bethlehem College & Seminary for both billed and personal costs, as well as the cost of living for a family (if applicable). All international applicants (including citizens of Canada) must complete the Affidavit of Financial Support and submit it along with required financial documentation. The student must also provide signed certification from the bank or sponsor(s) verifying the accessibility of funds. Strict government regulations require Bethlehem to verify the financial resources of international applicants. Canadian citizens are not required to obtain an F-1 visa. Canadian citizens must, however, receive an I-20 and pay the SEVIS fee. Canadians are also required to abide by all other provisions and restrictions for lawfully maintaining F-1 status, including provisions for employment and full time enrollment each semester.

Families

Bethlehem requires international students who are married and/or have children to bring their family with them. We believe that the well-being of marriage and family is of greater importance than theological study. These family members must apply for an F-2 Visa as part of their spouse's F-1 Student Visa application.

Health History Forms

All applicants are required to submit the Medical Information & Health History form. Additionally, applicants must submit the Immunization Record for Students Attending Post-Secondary Schools in Minnesota. The state of Minnesota requires all students to provide immunization records for the following immunizations: tetanus/diphtheria (Td or Tdap), at least one dose required within past 10 years; measles/mumps/rubella (MMR), at least one dose required at or after 12 months of age.

Additionally, international students may be required to complete a Tuberculosis (TB) screening the first week they arrive at Bethlehem. If students have ever been diagnosed or treated for TB, they should bring copies of all associated medical records.

Visa Application

After the deposit has been received, an I-20 will be issued. The applicant then is required to pay a one-time fee of $200.00 to the Dept. of Homeland Security for the operational costs of the Student Visa and Exchange Visitor Information Systems (SEVIS). Payment should be done prior to admittance at www.fmjfee.com after the I-20 is received.

Tuition

Bethlehem requires full payment of each semester's tuition before the semester begins. International students do not have the "four-payment" option, and should plan accordingly. An international student will not be allowed to enroll for the next semester and continue study if the student's tuition is not paid by the first day of class. Failure to make payment will result in immediate withdrawal from Bethlehem College & Seminary.

Course Load

Undergraduate: International students admitted to the United States are required by law to be registered as full time students carrying a minimum of 12 credit hours of academic work per semester in the undergraduate program.

Graduate: International students admitted to the United States are required by law to be registered as full time students carrying a minimum of 9 credit hours of academic work per semester in the graduate program.

Employment

International students on an F-1 student Visa can work only on campus (if a job is available). Students cannot work off campus until the second year and then only with permission from the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).

Health Insurance

International students must purchase and maintain health insurance while enrolled at Bethlehem College & Seminary. Married couples planning to have children should maintain comprehensive medical insurance, since the cost of having a baby in the U.S. can exceed $10,000USD. Single students in good general health are recommended to maintain so-called "major medical" or "catastrophic" insurance, the least expensive kind. Students must submit proof of their policy to the registrar prior to the beginning of classes.

Graduation

Upon graduation, international students are required to return to their home country. The F-1 (Full-time student) Visa is granted to a student whose sole purpose is to pursue full-time education in the U.S. and who intends to return to his/her home country after the completion of studies, unless accepted to another program to pursue continued education in the United States.

¶ OUR INSTITUTION, OUR CHURCH, AND OUR LIVES are built on the conviction that the Triune God of Scripture is supreme in all of reality. As such, all genuine knowledge and wisdom begins with the fear of the Lord. Therefore, we self-consciously seek to pursue all education, knowledge, and learning in humble dependence upon God for the sake of his name. All of our undergraduate programs are built on this fundamental conviction.

Arising from this foundational commitment is our belief in the integration of all knowledge. We believe that everything is related because everything is related to God. Therefore, all of our undergraduate programs seek to enable students to make connections across various disciplines and fields of inquiry, and to bridge the gap between the subject of their study and their own lives. These fundamental convictions have led us to adopt a holistic approach to education. Our aim is to build into our students habits of mind and heart that will never leave them and will fit them for a lifetime of ongoing growth. The well-educated person has the habits of mind and heart to go on learning what he needs to learn to live in a Christ-exalting way for the rest of his life—in whatever sphere of life he pursues.

These Habits of Mind and Heart apply to all objects in the world, but most importantly the Bible. We aim to enable and to motivate the student:

- to observe his subject matter accurately and thoroughly
- to understand clearly what he has observed

- to evaluate fairly what he has understood by deciding what is true and valuable
- to feel intensely according to the value of what he has evaluated
- to apply wisely and helpfully in life what he understands and feels
- to express in speech and writing and deeds what he has seen, understood, felt and applied in such a way that its clarity, truth, and value can be known and enjoyed by others

To this end, we offer four undergraduate programs:

- Associate of Arts
- Bachelor of Arts in Biblical and Theological Studies
 - » Exegesis Concentration or Cross-Cultural Ministry Concentration
- Bachelor of Arts in History of Ideas
- Bachelor of Theology

ASSOCIATE OF ARTS

Bethlehem College & Seminary's Associate of Arts degree is a two-year, 64-credit liberal arts program called Omnia. Courses in the humanities are delivered in an integrated format (48 credits) while courses in natural philosophy (math and science) and language are delivered in a traditional format (16 credits).

Omnia is a series of sequential courses that comprise the foundational liberal arts curriculum of Bethlehem College & Seminary. The aim of these courses is two-fold: to provide a coherent and rigorous understanding of the various fields of human knowledge in themselves and to show how all knowledge ultimately flows from, holds together in, and points to Christ (Colossians 1:17; 2:3). Through this approach, the curriculum focuses on the core knowledge and disciplines necessary for Christian formation. Omnia meets the distribution requirements for undergraduate general education, while providing a coherent framework for subsequent studies in a wide range of academic fields.

Omnia offers a liberal arts education in the Reformed and classical intellectual tradition. When we say liberal arts, we have in mind the cluster of academic disciplines that include grammar, logic, and rhetoric as well as history, theology, literature, and natural and moral philosophy. We pursue the task of liberal arts education in the great Christian tradition of faith seeking understanding. Thus, Omnia applies the skills of grammar, logic, and rhetoric to four fields of human knowledge (history, theology, philosophy, and literature) to understand their interrelationships from a distinctly biblical and confessional perspective.

Our faculty aim to equip students with the basic tools of reading and interpretation by immersing them in close readings of primary texts. We read great books - important works which have shaped history and stood the test of time - in light of the Greatest Book, Holy Scripture. The curriculum is oriented along the historical timeline, helping students grasp the history of ideas by interacting with the many great works of Western civilization. Our aim is to challenge students to think biblically and confessionally about history, literature, theology, and philosophy, eliciting student participation through careful discussion of these readings in the classroom. For this reason, our class sizes are intentionally small and students study and interact with same classmates throughout the entire two-year curriculum. Trust, “known-ness,” and accountability enable students to challenge one another to grow intellectually and spiritually. Focused writing assignments equip students to rigorously examine arguments, fairly represent opposing viewpoints, and compellingly articulate their own thoughts. Students will come to understand how God has worked in human history, how various currents of thought have developed and influenced the church and society, and how the development of these ideas has shaped the modern world.

Students participate in experiential learning opportunities provided at Bethlehem Baptist Church and at various locations throughout the Twin Cities. Through involvement in the ministry of the local church, meetings with a designated mentor, and creative off-site learning experiences in one of the most diverse and culturally-vibrant cities in the nation, students will find plenty of opportunity to apply and deepen the knowledge gained in the classroom. Students completing this program will be widely read, well grounded in their faith, and equipped to make a difference in today’s global society, whatever major or career path they choose.

Key Features:

Program: Education in the liberal arts fundamentally shapes a person’s intellectual development. It exists to provide the conceptual framework upon which all other learning is structured. Thus, our courses are offered as a unified program rather than as a loose confederation of subject matter. The courses in Omnia sequentially build upon one another in order to reinforce to students the coherence of knowledge.

Curriculum: Course content is delivered through a rigorous, integrated curriculum. Each semester, students receive a detailed study guide that provides primary and secondary reading assignments and central learning objectives for each class session. Students are required to come to class prepared to discuss with faculty and with each other what they have read and pondered in their preparations. Classroom time blends discussion, lecture, dialogue, student presentations, and debate. The curriculum is structured to weave primary source readings and key ideas from the core academic disciplines together in a historical sequence. Students are challenged to place authors, texts, societies, and religious movements into conversation with one another in the development of the history of ideas.

Community: Like obedience to Christ, academic study engages more than a student’s mind; it engages the whole person. Our location in the Twin Cities and our integration into Bethlehem Baptist Church enable us to continue the educational experience outside of the classroom. Students in Bethlehem College participate in a vibrant community that begins with fellow classmates, extends to other students, and then to the wider Bethlehem community. This community exists for the sake of God’s mission through Jesus Christ to redeem the world. Mentorship, small groups, church ministry, service in the community, and experiential learning opportunities are all integral components of the undergraduate program, making it a truly unique educational experience.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN BIBLICAL AND THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

Exegesis Concentration

Building upon the historical and theological framework established in the Omnia program, the exegesis concentration focuses more deeply on interpreting Scripture in its historical, literary, canonical, and redemptive-historical contexts.

Students in this concentration will learn both Greek and Hebrew and will apply their study of the biblical languages to the exegesis of select books in the Old and New Testaments.

Students will also grow in their ability to synthesize and articulate theological truths by participating in a series of upper-division historical, systematic, and biblical theological courses. All courses in this concentration will impress upon students the need to apply the truth learned to themselves, their church, and the surrounding culture. Students in this concentration will develop a strong grasp of the storyline of the Bible, the remarkable, Christ-centered unity between the Old and New Testaments, and the expansion of God's global kingdom in history.

Program Objectives

- Students will demonstrate competence in Hebrew language and exegesis.

Cross-Cultural Ministry Concentration

The Cross-Cultural Ministry concentration builds upon the Omnia program by inviting students to examine carefully the historical and contemporary issues affecting the cross-cultural missions endeavor. This concentration also engages students in close examination of Biblical texts, equipping students to study the Word accurately themselves and teach others from it.

In addition, the cross-cultural ministry concentration gives students theological categories for assessing methodologies proposed by the social sciences so that they might apply these insights to various contexts for ministry in a biblically faithful manner. Students will learn to exegete both God’s Word and his world for the sake of clear, Biblical exposition and faithful discipleship in an increasingly pluralistic world.

Program Objectives

- Students will demonstrate knowledge of and thoughtful engagement with contemporary cultures from an articulate and passionate Christian worldview.
- Students will demonstrate a thorough grasp of the system of Christian doctrine as found in Scripture and developed through church history.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN HISTORY OF IDEAS

The History of Ideas major is designed to equip undergraduate men and women with the skills needed to think clearly and accurately about the world in which they live and to challenge them to live faithfully in the home, the church, and the world.

Building upon the historical and theological framework established in the Omnia program, this major focuses upon great works of Western Civilization with a view to equipping students to evaluate the seminal ideas in the history of thought in light of the self-disclosure of the triune God. The program will not merely expose students to the great thinkers and ideas of history, but it will equip them to participate in the Great Conversation, while growing into mature human beings who are broad-minded and big-hearted, possessing firm convictions, and eager to pursue wisdom and wonder for the rest of their lives.

The History of Ideas major will train students to synthesize ideas from a range of disciplines, including philosophy, theology, history, literature, and the arts.

Finally, throughout the program, all ideas found in the Great Books are measured against the Person found in the Greatest Book. All things were created by, hold together in, and exist for Jesus Christ. He is the measure of all things and, therefore, our aim is that students in the History of Ideas major will be equipped to evaluate all claims to truth, goodness, and beauty in light of him.

Program Objectives

- Students will demonstrate a thorough understanding of great works of literature, philosophy, history, and theology, with a particular focus on the Western tradition.
- Students will demonstrate knowledge of and thoughtful engagement with seminal ideas in the history of thought and major questions that every human being must answer.
- Students will demonstrate a growing ability to synthesize knowledge from a variety of sources and disciplines, including philosophy, theology, literature, and the arts.
- Students will demonstrate competence in \ Greek language and exegesis.

The Bachelors of Theology (B.Th.) is designed to prepare students for ministry in the home, church, and world. Students will learn the skills and tools necessary for a lifetime of fruitful study of the Scriptures, including New Testament Greek. Students will not only systematically study “the whole counsel of God” but will also develop a strong grasp of the storyline of the Bible—how God progressively establishes his global kingdom in history through the mission of the Lord Jesus Christ.

In addition to closely examining the scriptures and systematic theology, courses will emphasize the application of these biblical truths to engage both unbelievers in evangelism and the local and global church in discipleship and spiritual growth. To that end, students will acquire collegiate-level writing skills in inquiry, interpretation, and argumentation in written and oral communication to more effectively articulate the message of the biblical text.

Offered only in the degree completion format, the B.Th. is designed to help working adults complete their college education. Students meet four hours, one night a week for twenty months to study the depths of God’s Word.

Program Objectives

- Students will demonstrate collegiate-level skills in inquiry, interpretation, and argumentation in written and oral communication.
- Students will be able to analyze, synthesize, and articulate biblical truth.

- Students will be able to demonstrate a biblical worldview for understanding and evaluating biblical, historical, and theological material.
- Students will be prepared for Christian service in the home, church, and the world.
- Students will provide evidence of maturing Christian discipleship.

MASTER OF DIVINITY: CHURCH PLANTING AND REVITALIZATION CONCENTRATION

In the New Testament, the gospel of Christ advanced by not only creating new believers by conversion, but also by gathering those believers into new churches entrusted to guard and advance the gospel to others. Today, the gospel continues to advance in the same way. Tim Keller, in his much quoted paper entitled “Why Plant Churches?” writes:

The vigorous, continual planting of new congregations is the single most crucial strategy for 1) the numerical growth of the Body of Christ in any city, and 2) the continual corporate renewal and revival of the existing churches in a city. Nothing else—not crusades, outreach programs, para-church ministries, growing mega-churches, congregational consulting, nor church renewal processes—will have the consistent impact of dynamic, extensive church planting.

The goal of this concentration is to provide biblical foundations and practical training for those sensing God’s call to be pastors, particularly of new churches or churches needing revitalization.

Students in the concentration take three specialized courses as electives. Also, students engage in a two-semester pastoral internship in the context of a church plant. Courses unique to the Church Planting and Revitalization concentration are:

- The Gospel and Personal Evangelism (2 credits)
- Church Planting and Revitalization (2 credits)
- Church Growth and Renewal (2 credits)

- Church Planting Internship 2 (2 cr)

DONOR-SUPPORTED EDUCATION

THANKS TO THE GENEROSITY OF OUR CONTRIBUTORS, Bethlehem College & Seminary heavily subsidizes each student's education. Because tuition covers 40% of the actual cost of a student's education, Bethlehem College & Seminary is, only in effect, providing a scholarship to each student equal to 60% of the true cost of their education. We do not offer additional, individual financial aid because we believe that our flat-rate tuition is reasonable and affordable at these levels. By not offering formal financial aid packages, we also eliminate a heavy administrative burden as well as the entanglements of governmental regulations which control the realm of financial aid. This further reduces our cost, keeping tuition affordable in the future. Therefore, for the low tuition paid, students receive an outstanding theological education.

TUITION AND FEES

One of the distinctive aspects of Bethlehem College & Seminary and one of our strongest commitments is to keep our programs affordable. In order to achieve our desire to be a strategic force for the growth of the worldwide church by training and educating passionate, God-centered, Bible-believing, Christ-exalting men and women, we feel that we must do everything we can to keep our students from becoming burdened with excessive financial debts.
